Industry Expert Q&A

Rick Cubas

General Manager Emergency
Air Heating and Cooling

Q: What is the biggest mistake you see homeowners make in regards to their home's HVAC?

A: The biggest mistake homeowners make is neglecting regular HVAC maintenance. Skipping routine check-ups can lead to decreased efficiency, higher energy bills and unexpected breakdowns. Many don't realize that regular tasks like changing filters, cleaning coils and professional inspections are essential. Maintaining good airflow by keeping vents and registers clear is also crucial. Regular maintenance keeps your system running smoothly, saves money and prolongs its lifespan.
